7. Mrs. Rosemary Okolo

Teaching and Research
Currently, Pan-Atlantic University has four main units:

- Enterprise Development Centre (EDC). It started in 2003.
- School of Media and Communication (SMC). It started in 2008.
- School of Management and Social Sciences (SMSS). It started in 2014.
The objective of education in our university is the well-rounded formation of the human person. This is why every first degree programme includes several courses in the humanities. We also seek to inculcate and groom the entrepreneurial spirit in our students and participants.

The University aims at nurturing individuals who are professionally competent, creative and enterprising, zealous for the common good and able to make free and morally upright decisions and who thus act as positive agents of change in service to society.

The founders of Pan-Atlantic University were inspired in beginning this educational project by the teachings of the founder of Opus Dei, an institution of the Catholic Church. Furthermore, the Prelature of Opus Dei provides the spiritual and pastoral means necessary in order that the University may maintain and develop its Christian identity. The Prelature of Opus Dei helps to ensure that the teaching, publishing and research activities in PAU are inspired by the Christian view of the person, the world and society.

SCHOOLS AND OTHER UNITS

Lagos Business School (LBS)
The Lagos Business School is the oldest unit of Pan-Atlantic University. It shares a campus with the Enterprise Development Centre of the University in Ajah, Lagos. The School offers several MBA programmes and also provides experienced professional managers with high quality general management education relevant to the Nigerian business environment.

LBS offers a wide spectrum of open-enrolment seminars on essential issues in business for business leaders and managers. Customised in-company seminars are also arranged for companies who need to train large groups of staff in a particular area.

Executive education at LBS has a strong practical orientation, drawing from the experience of faculty and participants. The system of teaching privileges the case-study method and group-work approaches to learning.

Enterprise Development Centre (EDC)
The Enterprise Development Centre of Pan-Atlantic University has the mission of providing business development and support services to small and medium enterprises (SMEs) in Nigeria.

EDC provides a variety of capacity building programmes. The services it provides to SMEs include advisory support, mentoring, experts-in-residence, network meetings, access to market & information, implementation of organisational plans and more.

School of Media and Communication (SMC)
The School of Media and Communication was instituted by Pan-Atlantic University in recognition of the critical role of the media and entertainment industries in shaping societal values and cultural life. No less important is the growing contribution of the creative industries to the Nigerian economy.

SMC seeks to train professionals who will uphold the highest intellectual, ethical and professional values that promote creativity, critical knowledge, technical perfection, social responsibility, and the spirit of the enterprise. The school offers B.Sc. programmes in Mass Communication and in Information Science and Media Studies; a postgraduate diploma in three streams – Design and New Media, Journalism, and Community Relations; full-time and part-time M.Sc. programmes; a PhD in Media and Communication. SMC also offers certificate programmes for professionals.

School of Management and Social Sciences (SMSS)
The aim of the School of Management and Social Sciences is to deliver economic and business education relevant to a rapidly evolving global environment.

The School of Management and Social Sciences currently runs B.Sc. programmes in accounting, business administration and economics and a doctoral degree programme in management.

UNIVERSITY CAMPUSES

Pan-Atlantic University currently operates two campuses. The Main Campus is in Ibeju-Lekki (located at km 52, Lekki-Epe Expressway). The Lekki Campus is located near Ajah (at Km 22, Lekki-Epe Expressway)

Main Campus
The main campus of the University occupies a 100 hectare piece of land area located in Ibeju-Lekki. In this campus can be found the University Administration, the School of Media and Communication, the School of Management and Social Sciences and the Institute of Humanities - an academic service unit of the University.

Lekki Campus
This campus which has an area of 10 hectares is located at Km 22, Lekki-Epe Expressway, Ajah, Lagos. This campus is the site of the Lagos Business School and the Enterprise Development Centre.
The current session marks the third since the beginning of PAU’s undergraduate programmes.

It has been my practice over the years to use the introduction to the Annual Report to highlight some of the main areas in which the University has made progress during the last session. Following that tradition, I would like to bring to your attention that during the last session the University succeeded in getting NUC approval to start B.Sc. programmes in Economics and in Information Science and Media Studies. Both programmes have taken off in October 2016.

Another important area of progress has been the significant increase in the number of applicants to our first degree programmes. We have admitted 197 qualified new students for these programmes. This represents an increase of 95% over the number admitted for the previous session. At a time in which a very difficult economic environment is making it difficult for other private universities to attract enough applicants, this shows clearly how we are coming to be better known as providers of quality education, also at the undergraduate level.

I also would like to take advantage of the opportunity provided by this annual report to highlight one of the distinguishing features of PAU, our emphasis on quality teaching. We recognize that, while people who come to PAU are interested in our research and service missions, logically their main interest, and the reason why they agree to pay our fees, is securing a first-class education. We endeavour to provide this education in a way consistent with our mission by ensuring that we provide both first class professional training and an education aimed at the development of the whole human person.

We ensure the quality of our professional training by having small classes, such that our lecturers can be familiar with each student; taking good care of the quality of our class technology, studios and computer lab; providing first class library resources, both physical and on-line; paying special attention to developing English language, critical thinking and entrepreneurial skills; providing frequent opportunities to interact with top professionals and making sure that from the first year all students who wish to do so have opportunities for internships.

Our effort to develop the whole human person centres on our ambitious programme in the humanities. I think I can state without fear of contradiction that this programme is the most elaborate one currently being offered by any Nigerian university. All our students, irrespective of the programme they are doing, take courses in English, Logic, History of Thought, Anthropology, Theology, Ethics, interpersonal skills, Nigerian peoples and cultures and world civilizations. This programme in the humanities accounts for 25% of the total number of credits our students take. Another important component of this effort to educate the whole human person is our mentoring programme in which each student is guided and helped throughout his or her stay in PAU by a mentor.

A final point I would like to highlight is the very significant progress we have made in the area of research. I invite you to check the relevant section of this annual report.

University Development

Physical Development

Main Campus
School of Science and Technology Building
Construction of the School of Science and Technology Building is well advanced with the frame of the building having been completed during the session.

Prince Yemisi Shyllon Museum
As announced earlier, the University with the support of Prince Yemisi Shyllon is developing a museum of art. Prince Shyllon, who is widely regarded to own one of the most important collections of modern African Art, has donated 1,000 of the best artworks in his collection as well as two hundred photographs depicting Nigeria’s peoples and cultures to the University. The value of the collection has been estimated at ₦1.6 billion. In addition, he has donated a further ₦100m towards the construction of a museum where these artworks and photographs will be on display.

He also pledged an annual contribution of $100,000 for fifteen years for the operation of the museum, amounting to a total donation of ₦2.2b both in cash and the value of the artworks.

When completed, it will be the only privately funded museum open to the public in Nigeria. The museum will be an important resource for researches, students and the general public to view valuable works of art that might otherwise have remained away from public view.

The museum has already been designed and work commenced during the session. The museum will feature a large vestibule, permanent display areas and exhibition halls on two floors, panel rooms and offices. A portion of the green area outside the building has also been designed as a sculpture garden. The ground floor of the museum building itself measures about 900m².
NEW APPOINTMENTS

- Prof Chantal Epie has been appointed Dean of the School of Management and Social Sciences (SMSS)
- Mrs. Ify Awagu has been appointed Acting Director of the Institute of Humanities.
- Dr Chris Ogbechie, Dr Mike Okolo, Dr Onafowokan Oluyombo and Mr Kingsley Ukaoha have been appointed members of the University Senate
- The Governing Council of PAU has approved the appointment Dr Fabian Ajogwu as professor of corporate governance in the Lagos Business School of Pan-Atlantic University. Prof Ajogwu is a Senior Advocate of Nigeria (SAN) and a faculty member at the Lagos Business School, where he has been teaching Business Law, Negotiation and Corporate Governance for 16 years. He has written over 10 books, published numerous articles in peer-reviewed academic and professional journals, and developed case studies and technical notes.
- The Governing Council has also approved the appointment of Dr James Tsaiaor as professor of cultural communications in the School of Media and Communication of Pan-Atlantic University. Professor Tsaiaor has written several books and book chapters, published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals as well as having presented many papers at local and international conferences.

DONATIONS TO THE UNIVERSITY

(Donations to the different units in the University are reported separately)

During the course of the Session, the University received N29m from 7Up Bottling Company. Of this sum, N25m was directed at funding the centre for extra-curricular activities for men while N4m was directed to supporting the University’s scholarship fund.

PAU ENDOWMENT FUND

The University’s endowment is a collection of gift funds and reserves which are set aside and invested to support the University’s teaching and research. This is in line with the practice of the best universities all over the world. The fund is independently controlled by trustees. As at 30 June, 2016, the endowment totalled ₦526 million.

PAU CSR

POWER TRANSFORMER
Pan-Atlantic University commissioned the 250KvA power transformer which was donated to the Ibeju-Lekki community as part of the University’s social responsibility activities on Thursday, November 26, 2015.

SCHOLARSHIPS
Pan-Atlantic University offers tuition fee aid/scholarships to 15% of our undergraduate students. 5% are on full scholarships while 10% are on partial scholarships. The scholarship programme is a corporate social responsibility (CSR) initiative of the University.

Scholarships are based on merit and the need for financial aid. Merit does not refer to good grades alone but also demonstrating a character congruent with values upheld by the University. During the 2014/2015 academic session, a total of 20 students were on scholarship; 12 enjoyed full scholarships while 8 were on partial scholarships.

In addition these students received further financial aid by participating in the work-study programme. Students on work-study work at different jobs in the University and are paid for the number of hours of work they put in per month. The programme accommodates a maximum of 20 hours a week per student.

LOCAL POLICE STATION
In the previous session, PAU donated a police station to the Ibeju-Lekki community. The university has also continued to support it by providing, on a voluntary basis, all the utility services available to the university (power, water, sewage treatment).

The station features the following – a charge room, a fully re-enforced armoury room, an en-suite commanding officer’s room, an administration office, female and male changing rooms and toilets.
FINANCIAL TIMES RANKING

LBS has been ranked amongst the top open enrolment executive education providers for the tenth consecutive year since 2007 and remains the only business school in West Africa to achieve this feat.

In the FT Executive Education 2016 ranking published today, LBS was placed 1st in West Africa, 3rd in Africa and 64th globally, in the open enrolment executive education category. The School also made the list of reputable custom executive education providers a second time; climbing 4 places from last year’s position to attain the 75th spot.

PROGRAMMES

NEW EXECUTIVE PROGRAMMES

Agribusiness Management Programme (AgMP)
The AgMP is an innovative and stimulating learning experience that integrates classroom knowledge and theory with action learning to nurture agribusiness managers and leaders who apply practical skills and solutions to their roles in organisations.

Both the content and design of this intensive programme are based on a comprehensive needs analysis and innovative design process done in collaboration with Agribusiness Industry Practitioners and experts. First offered in 2013, AgMP was upgraded to an executive programme in 2016.

The Management Acceleration Programme (MAP)
The Management Acceleration Programme (MAP) equips emerging leaders for their leadership journey, providing actionable knowledge and tools that empower them to meet the heavy demands and high expectations of their organizations. The programme design draws from LBS’ experience in creating transformational educational experiences for high-potential managers over the last two decades, as well as practical insights from skilled talent managers.

MAP aims to transform the total person in readiness for success with sound knowledge, the right attitude and a solid network. Participants will engage with key business and management concepts drawn from LBS’ MBA programme in areas such as business analytics and decision-making, leadership and people management, finance and accounting, strategy, and project management. 35 participants attended the programme in 2016.

Christopher Kolade Centre for Research in Leadership and Ethics (CRLE)

Events

- Three Humanistic Management Network Events
- Business Meeting
- Knowledge Café
- Special Interest Symposium at the 2016 AIB Annual Conference

Social Issue Cluster Meeting

One of the objectives of the CRLE is to influence and set the agenda on Leadership and Ethics in the continent. The Social Issue Cluster is one channel for achieving this objective. This is a ‘think tank’ style event held to brainstorm the social issues in leadership and ethics in the country and proffer solutions to them.

The event held on July 4, 2016. Its theme was “Transparency in Recruitment Practices in the Banking Industry” and it had participants from First Bank, Quramo Advisory/Learning, Kendor Consulting, PwC and Olive Microfinance Bank in attendance.

Humanistic Management Network Events

The Humanistic Management Network was founded to catalyse the transition towards a life-conducive economic system by working with thought leaders across academic disciplines, practice, policy and media to provide these solutions. The centre believes these solutions need to be co-created with practitioners, policy makers and supported by the media. To actualise it, the centre plans to hold at least two events annually to create opportunities for this kind of collaborative effort. Three were held in the past session:

Business Meeting

The purpose of the Business Meeting is to network with other members (old and new). It also provides an opportunity for using the working groups as focal points for discussion. The event which held on the 20th of November 2015 had participants from Huawei Nigeria, Mayfair MFB, Kitbenj Consulting, Customer Passion Point Limited and Best Practices Limited in attendance.

Knowledge Café

The purpose of the knowledge cafe was to deepen and enrich members’ understanding of the Network; share information about activities and conceive a draft strategic plan for the Nigerian chapter. It held on the 10th of December, 2015.
HMN Special Interest Symposium
A special interest symposium held at the 2016 Academy of International Business (AIB) Sub-Saharan Africa Chapter Annual Conference on 18 August 2016 at the Lagos Business School. Its theme was Humanistic Management - Towards a Humanistic Approach to Making FDI work for Africa through knowledge spill over and knowledge transfer.

The Centre for Infrastructure, Policy, Regulation and Advancement (CIPRA)

The Centre for Infrastructure, Policy, Regulation and Advancement (CIPRA) is devoted to research, training and advocacy in infrastructure development.

- CIPRA initiated a collaboration with Dutch Alliance for Sustainable Urban Development in Africa (DASUDA) on the Lagos Lagoon City project to engage the Lagos State Government and private developers on a new technique of urban upgrading to provide environmentally friendly housing in Lagos, efficiently maximizing the use of the waterbody to curb the challenges of squalor, congestion and improve liveability of Lagos.
- CIPRA has started a collaboration with the Barcelona City Council on the Wise Cities project, which aims to research ways to mitigate the challenges of mega city agglomerations; improving the quality of citizens’ life (by minimizing urban threats like migration and climate change, while maximizing citizens’ well-being); advising and empowering urban actors such as mayors and local authorities; and influencing the global debate by providing a freshly new international relations’ narrative around cities and the global urban agenda.
- CIPRA is also partnering with the Turin School of Local Regulation on testing a new game theoretic model named Framework of Incentive for Empowering Local Decision-making (FIELD). CIPRA is developing a case study on the collapse of Lagos water PPP project in 2014 using this model.

Launch of New Collaboration with the Gates Foundation
On Thursday, 21 January, 2016 LBS launched a new research project titled “Sustainable business models for delivering digital financial services to lower income unbanked citizens of Nigeria.” in conjunction with the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

To kick-off the project, an inaugural interactive session on Building and Sustaining Shared Distribution Networks was held, with relevant stakeholders from various industries. This session was followed by a Media Briefing session where the Dean, Dr Enase Okonedo; the Academic Director, Dr Olayinka David-West (Project Lead) and the Deputy Director, Financial Services for the Poor Program, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Kosta Peric, officially announced the project and responded to questions from members of the Press.
Workshop on Talent Management
Human Resource experts from various industries convened at Lagos Business School on Thursday, December 3, 2015 to discuss the results of the Global HR Competency Study, 2015.
Nigeria participated in this global survey for the first time and the HR Forum, organised by Lagos Business School, provided an avenue for an open discussion around the results and analysis of how best to address current HR challenges to positively impact future business performance.

The keynote speech, on Talent Management: Challenges and Strategies, was delivered by LBS Faculty, Uche Attok. Mike Ulrich, Co-Director at the Human Resource Competency Study, joined the forum and delivered the Global Competency Survey results.

AIB-SSA Conference
Lagos Business School hosted the 3rd edition of The Academy of International Business Sub-Saharan Africa (AIB-SSA) Conference. LBS-Terragon Breakfast Forum
The second edition of the LBS-Terragon Breakfast Forum titled: ‘Smart cities: Strategic Positioning in the Time of Recession’ held on Thursday, July 21, 2016 at Lagos Business School. The three hour event was anchored by Dr Eugene Ohu of LBS.

Notable speakers at the event were: Mr Ramon Ferrer, Former Deputy CIO and Former Smart City Director of the Barcelona City Council (2012-2015); Professor Joan Enric Ricart, Professor of Strategic Management and Chairman of the Strategic Management Department at IESE Business School and Mr Elo Umeh, CEO, Terragon Group.

Discussions at the forum centred on the prevalent importance of technology, in developing and building smart cities for businesses to thrive.

Youngpreneur Panel Discussion
As part of the activities lined up for the Social Media Week 2016, Forbes Africa 30 under 30 gathered on Tuesday, February 23, 2016 at Lagos Business School for the Technology and Youngpreneur panel discussion organised by Forbes Africa and Aim Higher Africa.

Members of the panel were: Peace Hyde, Founder Aim Higher Africa and Forbes WA Correspondent; Adebola Williams, Co-founder, Red Media; Rex Idiams, Founder, Achiever’s Media; Mary Ojukari, CFO CNBC and Forbes Africa; Edose Ohen, Director, HPO Global Group; Nkechi Eze, Editor Bella Naija. The panellists took turns to share insights on how they have used technology to grow their businesses and gave practical business advice to the budding youngpreneurs.

Aim Higher Africa is an NGO dedicated to enriching the standard of education by incorporating the use of ICT in the learning environment to build the next generation of entrepreneurs.

NEW INSTITUTIONAL RELATIONSHIPS

DELOITTE NIGERIA
On June 30 2016, LBS and Deloitte Nigeria signed a memorandum of understanding, to jointly host annual discussions on trending business issues for C-Suite executives from all sectors of the economy. At the end of each discussion, the plan is to jointly develop thought leadership materials for the larger Nigerian market.

YOUNG AFRICAN LEADERS INITIATIVE
REGIONAL LEADERSHIP CENTRE (YALI RLC)
To contribute towards entrepreneurship and leadership skills development for African youth, LBS signed an MOU to partner with the Young African Leaders Initiative Regional Leadership Centre (YALI RLC) in Accra, Ghana. LBS faculty will work with faculty from Ghana and USA to conduct workshops, annually, in Lagos and Accra, starting in August 2016 until 2019.
UNIVERSITY OF JOHANNESBURG
The Department of Public Management and Governance in the University of Johannesburg, South Africa and LBS signed an MOU on December 18 2015, to cooperate on academic activities, including research.

THUNDERBIRD SCHOOL & DUKE CORPORATE EDUCATION
On November 27 2015, LBS signed an agreement with Thunderbird School of Global Management, Arizona State University, USA, and on October 28, signed one with Duke Corporate Education, South Africa. These agreements enable LBS collaborate with two strong brands to provide executive education programmes to clients in Nigeria and around Africa.

INDIAN INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT
Partnerships with institutions for student exchanges also increased, by one, with the signing of an agreement with the Indian Institute of Management Ahmedabad, India in November 2015.

DIGITAL FRONTIERS INSTITUTE
On April 28, LBS signed an MOU to partner the Digital Frontiers Institute, to run what is known as a Community of Practice – a component of a blended learning certificate course in digital money. The partnership enables LBS faculty build expertise in the new area of digital finance.

BILL AND MELINDA GATES FOUNDATION
On Thursday, 21 January, 2016 Lagos Business School launched a new research project titled “Sustainable business models for delivering digital financial services to lower income unbanked citizens of Nigeria.” In conjunction with the Gates Foundation, the project seeks to better understand the delivery and access constraints for financial services in Nigeria.

HEALTH LEADERSHIP ACADEMY (HLA)
LBS, with the University of Cambridge Judge Business School, the Institute of Healthcare Improvement, Duke University and EpiAFRIC designed a course for the Health Leadership Academy (HLA), recently launched in Lagos. HLA aims to create a system which develops a crop of healthcare leaders that excel in governance and the provision of quality services.

SIEMENS
Lagos Business School signed an MOU with Siemens on Friday, March 11, 2016 to deliver intensive capacity development programmes - to be rolled out to law enforcement agencies - commencing with staff of the Independent Corrupt Practices and Other Related Offences Commission (ICPC). This programme is designed to further improve the efficacy and effectiveness of key officers involved in training personnel in the fight against corruption.

IESE BUSINESS SCHOOL
Lagos Business School has always been a great contributor to the IESE Africa Initiative. In line with this, Giovanni Maria Mazzacanni, a researcher on the IESE Africa initiative is currently at Lagos business School to facilitate the first ever co-branded cases between Lagos Business School and IESE Business School.

YALE SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT
As a member of the Global Network for Advanced Management (GNAM), an association formed by Yale School of Management (YSM) in USA, LBS deepened its relationship with YSM when it co-organised and hosted an academic conference on Africa-China relations. The conference which held at the Honeywell Group Auditorium on March 16 and 17, aimed to integrate African, Chinese and global perspectives on Africa-China relations. Nigeria’s former Minister of External Affairs, Prof Ibrahim Gambari, and Director of African Studies at Peking University, Professor Li Anshan, chaired the conference. The Special Representative of the Chinese Government on African Affairs, Ambassador Zhong Jianhua was the Special Guest.

The conference was attended by academics from China, USA, Nigeria and other African countries.

STUDENT-RELATED ACTIVITIES
2016 CAREER FAIR
The 13th Annual MBA Career Fair held on .... The fairs are organised to give them both recruiters and soon to graduate MBA students an opportunity to interact. It also provides an opportunity for firms to hire first year students preparing to go on internships.

The keynote address, given by Niyi Yusuf, Country Managing Director, Accenture, was hinged on the relevance of innovation. Over time, some companies have valued the MBA recruits from LBS and have participated repeatedly in the MBA Career Fairs. Notable amongst these are Total Nigeria, Oando Plc, Lexcel Group, Lafarge, GTBank, BASF, General Electric, Nestle, Unilever, Friesland Campina, Schneider Electric, Airtel, Sterling Bank, Nielson, FBN Quest and Cummins. Companies participating for the first time this year include The Boston Consulting Group, Dalberg and Arla (Dano).

AFRICA BUSINESS CONFERENCE
The Ondo state Governor, Dr Olusegun Mimiko was the Keynote Speakers at the 2016 edition of the Africa Business Conference (ABC), organised by students of Lagos Business School on 3 March 2016.

The Conference had as its theme “Africa Rising: Leveraging the Power of a Younger Generation” Explaining the theme of the 2016 edition of the annual conference, the organisers highlighted that at the heart of emerging trends in Africa is the rapid increase in the population of younger generation, thus, stressing that the conference focused on identifying opportunities that exist in Africa, by gaining an understanding of how the changing demography impacts consumer segments across various sectors of the continents.

STUDENT EXCHANGES
During the period, LBS had several visits of students to partner schools as follows:

- Three second year MBA students spent January to May 2016 at the Lille Campus of IESEG School of Management in France.
- One student was at the Monterrey Campus of IPADE Business School in Mexico from January to March 2016.
- In addition, taking advantage of the Global Network Week, an opportunity offered by the Global Network for Advanced Management, three students enrolled in a programme at Yale School of Management in USA, while one studied at Sauder School of Business in Canada from October 19-23. And from March 14 to 18, another student joined a similar programme at Yale School of Management.

INTEGRATED LEADERSHIP CASE COMPETITION
Toritseju Ekoko, Jadesola Surakat, Adetola Adegbite and Aramide Sadiq represented LBS at the 4th annual Yale School of Management’s Integrated Leadership Case Competition (ILCC) which took place on April 8-10, 2016 at Yale School of Management.

LBS MBA ENTREPRENEURSHIP INVESTOR FORUM
The LBS MBA Entrepreneurship Investor Forum took place on Thursday, March 24, 2016 at LBS. The forum is a new initiative which has been introduced as part of an entrepreneurship course, to nurture the ideals of making a social impact while making profit in a business. The event also aims to make the MBA students bridge the gap between economic growth and lagging social development through profitable businesses that solve social problems.

At the forum, the MBA students showcased and promoted businesses that solve social problems in a profitable way; reconciling the world of profit-making and the world of social impact. Judges at the forum, for the first time, were past MBA students who were equipped with the knowledge of doing sustainable business and now run successful businesses that have social impact.

LBS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION (LBSAA)
Apart from the regular monthly alumni sessions, the LBSAA organises a number of major activities during the year for alumni. Some of them were:

THE ALUMNI CONFERENCE
The 20th edition of the annual LBSAA Alumni Conference (Alumni Day) held on Thursday, November 19, 2015 at the Lagos Business school. The event, hosted by alumni of the Chief Executive Programme (CEP)-22 and tagged ‘Building a Competitive Nation’ had Mr. Akinwunmi Ambode, Governor of Lagos State; Mr Aig-Imokhuede, President, Nigerian Stock Exchange; Dr Adedoyin Salami, LBS Faculty;
Mr Rasheed Olaoluwa, CEO, Bank of Industry; Mr Taiwo Dauda, Executive Director, Infrastructure Bank and Mr Tokunbo Talabi, President, Superflux International Limited as the main speakers. 250 alumni attended the event.

THE LBSAA PRESIDENT’S DINNER
The 2016 LBS Alumni Association President’s Dinner held on 4 June 2016 at Eko Hotel and Suites, Victoria Island. Over 1000 alumni and guests attended the event which is one of the high points of the LBSAA’s social calendar. During the event, Mr Charles Anudu who is is the Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director of SWIFT Networks Ltd as well as the founding Managing Director and Chairman of The Candel Company Limited, a major player in the Nigerian Agricultural industry, received the distinguished alumni award.

The overall Best Alumni Class award was also presented at the dinner and the award went to the CEP 22 class for their active participation in alumni events and the cohesiveness of the class.

CLASS RE-UNIONS
The re-union for classes of 2006 & 2011 OMP15, CEP20, CEP15, EMBA9, EMBA10, FT MBA2, FT MBA8, SMP42, SMP41, AMP23 – held at the LBS Foyer, on 19 April 2016. The event witnessed the turnout of 113 reuniting alumni, their spouses and LBS faculty. The guest speaker was Dr Chris Ogbechie of LBS who spoke on ‘Building a Sustainable Business in an Ethically Challenging Environment.

ZONAL DINNERS
As a means to extend the reach of the LBSAA for the benefit of its members, events are held at locations outside Lagos on an annual basis. Those which took place during the year were:

Abuja
Two dinners held in Abuja during the session. The first held on 15 October, 2015 at the Transcorp Hilton, Abuja. The guest speakers were Mr Babatunde Fowler, Chairman, Federal Inland Revenue Service and Engr Mustapha Bello, Chairman, Invest in Northern Nigeria Limited. They spoke on Growing Your Enterprise the Intelligent Way. Among the guests was Chief Willie Obiano, Governor of Anambra State.

Attendance at LBS Alumni Conference
In all, 73 alumni and guests attended the event.

The second held on 21 July, 2016 at the Transcorp Hilton, Abuja. The guest speaker was Mr Ben Akabueze, Director General, Budget Office of the Federation. He spoke on Opportunities in the Nigerian Agricultural Sector. 45 alumni and guests attended the event.
Port-Harcourt
8 October, 2015 at the Transcorp Hilton, Abuja. The guest speaker was Chief Nyesom Wike, Governor of Rivers State, represented by his Special Assistant on Administration, Mr Gilbert Nria. He spoke on Why Some Nations Fail and Others Succeed. Among the guests was Dr Nnaeto Orazulike, Chairman, Genesis Group. In all, 65 alumni and guests attended the event.

UK Chapter Meet
The LBS Alumni Relations Office recently organised a reunion with some of its UK members on Saturday, July 9, 2016. The three-hour event took place at Harvester the O2. The vision for the chapter is similar to that for the Nigerian chapter – to foster life-long relationships with our members for mutual benefit. Efforts in achieving the mission of the LBSAA have been focused on members in Nigeria, but increasingly, a lot of LBSAA members have emigrated for various reasons. Creating the UK Chapter is an important means of keeping in touch with them. More importantly, that they continue to derive value from their membership of the LBSAA despite the challenge posed by distance challenge.

LBS CSR ACTIVITIES
During the period of reporting, LBS supported academic institutions and organisations in different ways as outlined here -

As a founding member of the Association of African Business Schools (AABS) LBS hosted the Association’s annual conference and general meeting from May 22-24 2016. Deans and directors of business schools from Nigeria and around Africa, as well as international accreditation bodies and others involved in management education attended the conference. This was the second time LBS was hosting the annual conference, the first time being in 2012.

To help encourage entrepreneurship and innovation in Africa, LBS supported the MTN Entrepreneurship Challenge by Jumia, acting as “Anchor Institution” for the contest. On April 8, LBS hosted the Live Pitch phase of the competition where the top applicants shortlisted from across Nigeria presented their business ideas to a panel of judges, which included one of the School’s faculty Dr Henrietta Onwuegbuzie.

Also in support of young professionals, LBS regularly organises or (and) hosts development seminars, on a pro bono basis, for groups of people. From March 7 to 11, fifty-two national Youth Corps members attended the Venture in Management Programme (ViMP), organised by Junior Achievement of Nigeria (JAN) in partnership with LBS. The programme was taught by LBS faculty and held in LBS.

Similarly, LBS supports the Junior Chamber International (JCI) Ikeja, by hosting their Individual Development Seminar for members of the association, annually. On June 11, LBS faculty Dr Henrietta Onwuegbuzie spoke at the seminar themed “Innovation and Management”.

LBS provided a venue for a panel discussion organised by Aim Higher Africa in partnership with Forbes Africa. The talk, which held on February 23 2016, was about using technology and business to close the poverty gap.

In continuing partnerships already formed, LBS is helping develop research assistants for the Institute for Work and Family Integration (IWFI). On November 3, IWFI’s newly hired research assistant Onyinye Ezeugbor joined LBS to work with Dr Okechukwu Amah on projects, to gain some research experience.

Likewise, with the Nigerian Economic Summit Group (NESG), LBS worked with Heinrich Boell Foundation and NESG to host a strategic meeting on November 19, to discuss Nigeria’s energy policy in light of on-going (at the time) international discussions. The meeting was aimed at finding ways of achieving national economic growth targets in a sustainable manner. LBS was represented by Dr Ijeoma Nwagwu, the director of the First Bank Sustainability Centre at LBS. Earlier, in October, two members of LBS faculty, Dr Doyin Salami and Dr Henrietta Onwuegbuzie played key roles in achieving the success of the Nigerian Economic Summit (NES) held in Abuja.

On August 31 2015, two LBS faculty members, Dr Olayinka David-West and Dr Ogechi Adeola joined 19 other individuals from 14 countries around the world to work on a consulting project for the London Taxi Company. Since then, more staff and students have participated in online discussions and virtual internship projects, gaining international experience and virtual collaboration skills.

Dr David-West of LBS taught on a free online course titled “Africa Platform Management, Strategy & Innovation” which began on May 9 2016. The course is a programme of the Centre for Global Enterprise (CGE), a non-profit organisation based in the US.
DONATIONS TO LBS

In the last Session, LBS received a number of gifts from generous partners. Notable among them was a donation by the Onosode Family towards the development of the International Management Research Center (IMRC). The family pledged ₦500,000,000 with an immediate disbursement of ₦100,000,000. When completed, the building which will be named in honour of the late Gamaliel Onosode, will house existing research centres, named below, as well as future research centres:

- The Centre for Infrastructure, Policy, Regulation and Advancement (CIPRA)
- The First Bank Sustainability Centre
- The Centre for Research in Leadership and Ethics (CRLE)

STUDENT-RELATED ACTIVITIES

Students’ Entrepreneurship Fair

The Enterprise Development Centre (EDC) of the University teaches a module on Entrepreneurship at the Pan Atlantic University. There were 82 2nd year students registered for the module from both the School of Media and Communication and School of Management and Social Sciences. This module runs through for a whole academic year.

As part of the continuous assessment for the module on entrepreneurship, the 82 students in second year were clustered into groups of ten and given the mandate to start and run businesses. Near the end of the semester, an expo was planned to give the students the opportunity to exhibit their products and sell to customers. This was also an opportunity for EDC to assess the students through feedback from the EXPO guests. The EXPO accounts for 20% of their total grade in the entrepreneurship course.

EDC invited 50 guests from its alumni network and on arrival they were given assessment sheets to score the groups on presentation, innovation, teamwork, product/service knowledge and quality of product/service.

Some of the objectives of the EXPO include:

- Assessment for the students
- To ignite the entrepreneurial spirit in the next generation
- To give the groups opportunities to get direct feedback from customers

HELP TO OTHER UNIVERSITIES AND INSTITUTIONS

Prof. Chantal Epie went on three occasions to Côte d’Ivoire to collaborate with French-speaking MDE Business School, Abidjan: 8th-13th February 2016 to run AMP and SMP modules on Negotiation, 20th to 25th June for seminars and 26th-29th July to run a module on Personal Development in the PLD programme.

Information on EDC Services

Beyond classroom-based capacity building, EDC's strength perhaps lies in its out-of-class services better known as Wrap-Around Services. Apart from the regular advisory and mentoring services, EDC focuses on the under listed services:

Expert-in-Residence (EIR) Sessions

These are business clinics where SMEs are able to consult with experts from different areas of business management on specific challenges they face in the process of managing their enterprises. In the period under review, six EIR sessions were held with a combined attendance of 230 EDC members and 16 Experts.

Network Meetings

Because of the usefulness of continuous education and networking, EDC organizes a series of network meetings for its members. In the last year, 11 network meetings were organized with a combined attendance of over 1,117 entrepreneurs.

SME Toolkit Nigeria

The SME Toolkit Nigeria is a web-based tool that has been developed by the International Finance Corporation (IFC) – the private arm of the World Bank. It offers software, business forms, training and more to help small businesses grow and succeed. EDC is the Partner for the SME Toolkit in Nigeria.

The objectives of the website include:

- Driving traffic to the site. Currently, there are over 34,000 registered users on the toolkit.
- Localization of contents and business materials provided on the site
- Provision of business information, tools and articles that could be relevant in helping SMEs improve their businesses.
PERSONNEL
Over the past year, EDC has employed 4 professional and 2 support staff. Currently, the Centre has a total of 24 staff both in its Lagos and Abuja Offices.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT
Chinazo Okoye completed the M.Sc. in media and communication programme at the School of Media and Communication, Pan-Atlantic University.
